Geographical data

In the northwest Italy borders to France (488 km), in the north to Switzerland (740 km) and Austria (430 km) and in the northeast to Slovenia (232 km). It also contains two other (very small) countries: Vatican City and San Marino. The distance between north to south is about 1200 kilometers. From east to west the distance is never more than 170 and never less than 54 kilometers (except in the north).

Population

Italy has almost 57 million inhabitants. The areas around the big cities have the largest population density. About 18% of the population lives in one of the cities with 350,000 inhabitants or more.

Languages

Italian is the official language but in the provence Bolzano (southern Tirol) a lot of people speak German (about 200,000 people), in some of the valleys of Piemonte and Valle d'Aosta people speak French (about 100,000 people); in the valleys of the Dolomites and the region Friuli-Venezia Giulia some speak Raetoroman. In the provence of Basilicata, southern Italy, a part of the population even speaks Albanese. Look at www.eurolang.net to learn more about the languages and dialects spoken in Italy.

History

Since earliest times the history of Italy has been influenced by cultural and political divisions resulting from the peninsula's disparate geography and by circumstances that made Italy the scene of many of Europe's most important struggles for power. Most people will have learned a bit about the Roman empire at school. We have decided not to write a detailed historypage anymore, since we would have to cite other sources that are often on the internet already.

Climate

Italy has a predominantly Mediterranean climate; Alpine in far north; hot, dry in south. In summertime the average temperatures in the lowlands are 28°C in the south and 22°C in the north. The winter is very cold in the Alps, cold and foggy in the Po Plain and the central Apennines; mild and even warm on the Ligurian coast, the Neapolitan coast and in Sicilia.

Flora and fauna

In Alpine regions, fauna includes marmots, ibex and chamois, sometimes even brown bears, lynx, ermines and blue hares. Mountainous regions are abundant in vultures, buzzards, falcons and kites. Reptile species that are common in Italy comprise numerous lizards and snakes, even poisonous vipers, some areas show populations of scorpions. In the past, most of Italy was covered by trees, however, intense deforestation during centuries gone-by led to a significant reduction in woodland.

TRAFFIC INFORMATION

There is a capillary network of state and provincial motorways and suburban roads in Italy. Nothing better than a rental car to explore Italy's many attractions on your own. However, rarely are those arriving from abroad familiar with the road safety regulations of the host country and, sometimes, even residents may have some doubts, especially regarding the latest news of the Highway Code or local ordinances.

If you have to rent a car, however, it is good to keep them in mind to avoid incurring serious administrative penalties or, even worse, exposing yourself to serious risks.

International driving licence

First of all, we remind you that, if your licence was issued in a country not belonging to the European Community, you must hold a valid international driving permit (it lasts one year from the date of issue). Driving licences with non-Latin characters must be translated into Latin characters by the Embassy or Consulate. Otherwise, we cannot deliver the vehicle to you and, in any case, you could not circulate.

Ground rules

In Italy you drive on the right and overtake on the left. On motorways and suburban roads, it is compulsory to drive with the sidelights and dipped headlights on, while on city streets this is optional.

The use of the horn is prohibited inside built-up areas except in an emergency. The use of seat belts, front and rear, is always mandatory.

In the proximity of crossroads, unless otherwise indicated by horizontal or vertical signs, priority is given to vehicles coming from the right.

MTPL insurance is included in the rate and the vehicle comes with the mandatory equipment consisting of a reflective triangle and high-reflective jacket.

The high-reflectivity jacket must be worn in the event of an emergency stop on the right edge of the carriageway and the warning triangle must be positioned at least 50 metres from the broken-down vehicle.

Parking

The parking lots on the blue lines are paid, while there is free parking on those with white lines. Some municipal administrations allow free parking for electric vehicles on the blue lines in restricted traffic areas. This is undoubtedly one more reason to get well informed about the regulations of your destination city and, of course, to evaluate the rental of an electric car.

Speed limits

On motorways, the maximum speed allowed is 130 km/h (80 miles), on extra-urban roads 110 km/h (70 miles) while, within built-up areas, 50 km/h (31 miles). Adverse weather or visibility conditions reduce the above limits.

Child seats and reducers

Italian law provides for the mandatory use of safety devices for children up to the age of 12 or 150 cm in height.

Once they reach the height of one and a half metres, children may travel seated on the vehicle seats and secured with seat belts.

Snow chains are mandatory on board.

In the days between 15/11 and 15/04 in most of central-northern Italy and some areas of central and southern Italy (including the islands), specific ordinances stipulate that the use of snow wheels or snow chains on board is mandatory.

The cars, in these areas and if not equipped with snow tyres, will be supplied already equipped with chains included in the proposed rental price.

At the time of booking, you can choose to exclude the snow chains accessory (in this case a declaration must be made) if you intend to provide it yourself or if you have already planned a route that does not include the roads or territorial areas concerned.

For more information, you can consult the website of the State Police.

What to do in the event of a claim

It is essential to observe prudence when driving but if you have the misfortune of running into a road accident it is good to know how to behave.

In the event of a driving accident, with or without a counterparty, you are always obliged to declare what happened. In the event of an accident with a counterparty, the number plate, insurance company, name of the driver and any witnesses, and the name of the car's owner, which appears in the vehicle registration document, must be noted.

This information is essential. To do this, follow the outline of the accident report in the onboard documentation.

Vehicles should not be removed only if the accident caused serious damage to people or things, otherwise, they should be removed to avoid obstructing traffic (punishable by a fine).

Here is a small handbook on how to behave in the event of a claim:

1. Make sure there are no injuries.
2. Keep calm and avoid heated arguments with the other party.
3. Position the warning triangles at a safe distance from the vehicle to signal it to other motorists in transit.
4. Take detailed photographs of the accident site and the vehicles involved. The licence plate number of the latter must be visible.
5. Fill in the accident report. Both parties should sign the form after agreeing on the dynamics of the facts together. If the other party refuses to sign, in addition to the form only you signed, you should collect evidence (witnesses or any report by the authorities that may have intervened on the spot).
6. Clear the carriageway of any vehicles involved if no serious damage to persons or property has occurred.

Driving restrictions for novice drivers

We would like to remind you that new drivers are absolutely not allowed to drive after consuming alcoholic drinks.

Alcoholic level of the driver during the driving

In Italy driving with an alcoholic level higher than 0,5 g/l is prohibited.

Penalty: car stop and driving licence withdrawn.

Road assistance

In the event of an accidental stop or damage caused by an accident, call roadside assistance on 800 069837 (+39 015 2559656 from abroad). We remind you that the service is free only in case of a subscription to the optional Road Assistance Plus coverage.

The main emergency numbers to remember are:

- Police 113
- Fire Brigade 115
- Ambulance 118

THE SPECIAL STAGES

Special Stage 1 – “CAPOLIVERI” (10.480 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car: 24 September 2026 – 20:20

For the sixteenth consecutive year, Capoliveri will host a spectacular night-time “town” Special Stage, made possible thanks to the invaluable support of the Municipal Administration and a large group of local rally enthusiasts.

The stage starts in Via Mellini and, after passing through the historic centre and skirting Capoliveri’s main square, winds its way along the narrow streets of the town, featuring sudden climbs and descents and blind corners with little margin for error at the roadside. Even the slightest driving mistake here can prove costly and jeopardise a crew’s chances of continuing the rally.

Special Stages 2/4 – “DUE COLLI” (12.380 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car – SS2: 25 September 2026 – 10:00

Scheduled time for the first car – SS4: 25 September 2026 – 15:00

Created by combining two historic sections – Colle del Monumento and Colle Reciso – the “Due Colli” stage starts from Filetto before immediately joining the Provincial Road of Monumento.

The opening section features a fast, flowing climb to the summit, where engine power becomes a decisive factor. The subsequent descent heads towards the village of Lacona, where the road becomes narrower and the surface more technical, demanding accuracy from the crews.

In the closing section, competitors first tackle a very narrow stretch featuring several 90-degree corners before joining the Colle Reciso road. A steep climb towards the quarries follows, with a chicane introducing a technical finale packed with corners. The entire section is framed by views across the Bay of Portoferraio, providing a spectacular backdrop to an adrenaline-filled finish.

Special Stage 3 – “DUE MARI” (22.340 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car: 25 September 2026 – 10:50

Special Stage 5 – “PERONE” (12.450 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car: 25 September 2026 – 15:50

This year ACI Livorno Sport once again brings the Monte Perone stage back in the south-to-north direction, taking competitors onto one of the island’s most technical and fascinating stretches of road.

Crews tackling the “Due Mari” and “Perone” stages, starting from La Pila, will face a sequence of hairpin bends over the opening two kilometres, immediately demanding precision and rhythm. They will then pass through the village of Sant’Ilario before reaching the Accolta junction. The central sector is the most demanding part of the route: a difficult section leading towards the village of Poggio, where technique and concentration will be crucial. SS5 ends just before entering Poggio.

The longer “Due Mari” stage then continues along the “Civillina” Provincial Road before finishing at Buonconsiglio. The route promises to be exceptionally varied and complete, combining hairpins, climbs and descents with constantly changing road surfaces, often made even more treacherous by fallen leaves. Dense vegetation surrounding the road adds another layer of difficulty. It is a stage that offers crews virtually no respite and will provide a severe test for both competitors and cars.

Special Stages 6/8 – “INNAMORATA – ANNA PUCCINI” (9.850 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car– SS6: 26 September 2026 – 09:30

Scheduled time for the first car – SS8: 26 September 2026 – 13:50

The stage starts from Viale Italia and follows an almost loop-shaped route, eventually bringing the crews back towards the outskirts of Capoliveri, passing through Via Luperini.

The route runs along the spectacular panoramic roads around Capoliveri and the hamlets of Trappola, Morcone, Pareti and Innamorata, alternating fast, flowing sections with more technical stretches where precision and clean driving lines can make the difference.

Constant changes of rhythm put both drivers and co-drivers under pressure, requiring maximum concentration and perfect teamwork, while tricky asphalt conditions in several places demand careful management of grip.

It is a technical and highly complete stage, designed to reward both driving talent and concentration.

Special Stage 7 – “VOLTERRAIO-CAVO” (26.940 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car: 26 September 2026 – 10:25

Special Stage 9 – “VOLTERRAIO” (5.680 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car: 26 September 2026 – 14:45

Special Stage 10 – “BAGNAIA-CAVO” (18.450 KM)

Scheduled time for the first car: 26 September 2026 – 15:05

The longest Special Stage of the rally starts from Rio Elba and finishes in Cavo, passing through Nisporto and Bagnaia after almost 27 kilometres of bends and hairpins on a road surface that changes constantly.

The stage has become a regular fixture of the event since 2018. Its route combines three historic stages – “Volterraio”, “Falconaia” and “Parata” – and its inclusion in the rally has been made possible thanks to close cooperation with the local administrations, given the considerable impact that running such a long stage has on the surrounding area.

From a technical perspective, it is a Special Stage that places considerable demands on both crews and cars, due to the unique characteristics of this spectacular road.

There are numerous points of particular interest along the route, from the final section of Volterraio to the Falconaia hairpins and the passage by the Church of San Pietro in Rio Elba, to name just a few.

This is one of those stages where the driver can truly make the difference.
